DRAMATIC ACCOUNT OF DEATH OF THE TWO ALLENS IN RICHMOND YESTERDAY

Tragic Scenes Surround the Execution of the Two Outlaws.

NO FEAR OF DEATH.

Bodies are Viewed by Thousands Who Crowd Undertakers After the Bodies Were Removed.

Richmond, Va., March 29.—"I am willing to go."

With these half whispered words upon his lips, which moved as though in prayer, Floyd Allen went to his death at the penitentiary at 1:26 o'clock yesterday afternoon, proceeding by nine minutes, his son, Claude, who was pronounced dead at 1:35 o'cock.

The fatal climax to the long history of the court-house tragedy at Hillsville followed fast upon the unexpected return of Governor Mann from Pennsylvania to his office in the Virginia State Capitol. It came after one of the most dramatic eleventh-hour efforts to cheat the law ever made in the history of Virginia, and after a proceeding probably unparalled in any other state.

In striking contrast to the feverish agitation of those who fought long and earnestly in their behalf, the two doomed mountaineers faced the grave with absolute calmness and resignation. Each man walked to death without a tremor. A prayer was breathed from the tightly-drawn lips of Floyd, the grizzled mountain chieftain. The younger man died without a word and without any indication of emotion, other than a most compete resignation.

The first jury having been formed in line on the main hallway to the ground floor commenced its march to the chamber of death at 1:17 o'clock. The procession moved in solemn order through the grated doorway opening into the inner courtyard and then, turning sharply to the left, began the descent of the narrow stairway leading to the subterranean death chamber.

When the file of twelve men had passed through the door to this apartment of terror the portal closed and all was silent without. Within the chamber was dimly lighted. Rows of plain oaken chairs for the jurors were ranged to the northern enc of the room, at the other side of which stood in the shadow the awful engine of death. About the chair, standing motionless, several guards and keepers stood ready to exact the law's due. Suddenly and quietly, a guard placed a board, studded with incandescant lights, across the arms of the chair, the switch was turned and the current applied. At once the little chamber was ablaze with light. This was to fest the chair. All was found in readiness. The board was removed and a redoubled gloom stettled over all.

In another moment a faint tapping was heard at the bolt-studded door which leads from the death cells into the death chamber. This door was opened by some unseen hand, and Floyd Allen, with bowed head and muttering lips, stood in the portals. He was clad in dark trousers and a white shirt, with collar and tie attached. His hair was neatly brushed and his face appeared a trifle flushed although his eyes were downcast and misty.

With a guard on either side he quickly took eight on nine steps to the chair, glancing at the oaken chair of doom for one brief instant, and then muttered audibly: "I am willing to go." With these parting words, he sank into the chair. Four attendants quickly buckled his arms and legs. A cap was placed over his head and the switch turned on. Instantly 2,000 volts of electricity surged through his body, across whose chest was fastened a heavy strap. The bosom of the old mountaineer heaved heavily several times, his right hand became clinched into a fist, and an instant later his lifeless form relaxed into the chair as the current was turned off.

The official times of Floyd's electrocution were as follows: He entered the death chamber at 1:20; the current was applied at 1:22, and at 1:26 Dr. Herbert Mann, penitentiary surgeon, pronounced life extinct.

Quickly the rigid body of Floyd Allen was lifted out of the chair by attendants and carried into the mortuary which joins the death chamber. Scarcely had this been done before the second jury, which had been summoned to witness the death of Claude Allen was formed into line in the upper corridors of the prison.

Standing between the two ministers of the gospel, who had so long and so faithfully administered to his and his father's spiritual needs, Claude Allen like a Greek God, waited just outside of his death cell electrocution of the father. The ministers could scarcely bear up during this fateful moment. Tears stood in the eyes of both, and the Rev. Dr. McDaniel but poorly controlled his emotion. The second jury having been marched to the subterranean chamber, the tragedy of Floyd was repeated in the electrocuton of his son.

Again the test of lights was applied to the chair and once more the death chamber was flooded with light. Again came the fateful tapping at the bolt-studded door, a silence foliowed. The door opened as before and, cut clean against the blackness of the background, stood the stalwart form of Claude Allen, towering above the heads of the guards. He was clad, like his father, in a white shirt and trousers of dark material. His face bore a heightened color. His head was held erect. His shoulders were thrown back. His eyes looked straight ahead, glancing neither toward the chair nor away from it.

There was no word of farewell upon the lips of Claude as he was buckled into the chair. But his face spoke forgiveness of all animosities and his resignation appeared absolute.

Scarcely had the straps been secured, the electrodes applied and the cap adjusted when the death-dealing switch responded to the hand of an attendant and the soul of Claude Allen was precipitated into eternity. He entered the death chamber at 1:30 o'clock. He took his seat in the chair one minute later. At 1:35 his stilled form was removed into the mortuary chapel and the youthful clansman was pronounced dead.

Bliley's undertaking establishment was at once notified upon the death of the last victim to justice and within a few minutes the death wagon arrived and was driven into grounds. The bodies of Floyd an Claude were taken from the state prison to the funeral director's establishment, to be prepared for burial.

In little groups the jurors who witnessed the double execution filed out of the prison and wended their way to their homes of places of business. The faces of the majority of them indicated unmistakably that they had been weeping, and had been deeply affected by the legal tragedy to which they had been parties.

The bodies were received at the Bliley establishment by several sympathizers and friends. Victor Allen was also there. The bodies left Richmond last night over the Southern Railway at 11:45 for Mount Airy, which is the nearest railroad station to the home of Floyd Allen, in the Fancy Gap section of Carroll.

Before the body of Claude left Richmond there will be attached to its breast the gold medal which was to have been presented Thursday afternoon. In death he will bear this home to Carroll. It will later be presented to his bereaved and widowed mother.

Governor Mann returned to Richmond at 11:30 o'clock yesterday morning. A crowd of about 100 or 150 persons was gathered on the station platform at Elba when the train bearing the executive pulled in. Because of some wild rumors that an attempt might be made to make a demonstration against the executive—although there turned out to be no foundation whatsoever for the suspicion or rumors—Captain Epps, of the Second police station, three patrolmen and Detective Sergeants Bailey and Atkinson were sent to the station to meet and protect the Governor if necessary. Governor Mann stepped from the train, and bounded into an automobile, in which were seated his secretary, Ben Owen, and his son, William Hodges Mann, Jr., and whisked to his office at the capitol.

Governor Mann said he was in Philadelphia when he received news of the fact that the Allen sympathizers had appealed to Lieutenant-Governor Ellyson to interfere in the case, and that he started back to Richmond from the "Quaker City" at 2:25 o'clock yesterday morning.

The executive's first official act upon arriving at his desk shortly after 11:30 o'clock was to say to his secretary: "Telephone the superintendent of the state penitentiary that the governor of Virginia in his office at the capitol."

Until 2 o'clock yesterday morning Allen sympathizers sat in conference with Lieutenant-Governor J. Taylor Ellyson in prolonged and frantic efforts to induce this state official to grant commutation of sentence to Floyd and Claude during the absence of Mann from Virginia.

The conference began at the home of Mr. Ellyson, 10 East Franklin street but was adjourned over to the residence of John P. Branch, 1 West Franklin street, shortly after 10 o'clock. From that hour until after 1 o'clock argument was made before the lieutenant-governor. Mr. Ellyson did not definitely outline his intentions, pleading uncertainty as to his jurisdiction during the absence of the chief magistrate.

A touring car was dispatched for Samuel W. Williams, attorney-general of the state, who waited upon the conference. It was the judgment of Mr. Williams that the lieutenant-governor lacked authority to grant commutation to the condemned clansmen. He preferred however, to look up authorities on the question and announced that he would deliver a forml opinion in the matter at noon yesterday.

Acting upon this declaration it was determined that the electrocution of Floyd and Claude, which was to have taken place at the state prison at 7:15 ths morning, should be postponed pending the opinion of Judge Williams. The Rev. J. J. Scherer was dispatched with a message to Major James B. Wood superintendent of the penitentiary and Wood ordered that the electrocution of the doomed men be temporarily postponed.

Such a proceeding as that at the residence of John P. Branch Thursday evening is probably without pre-edent in Virginia. The meeting was attended by several men of prominence. Richard Wingfield a judge of the state corporation commission, was active in his efforts to induce Mr. Ellyson to assume gubernatorial jurisdiction in the matter of commutation of the condemned outlaws. The Rev. Dr. George W. McDaniel, pastor of the First Baptist.

Church here, was an active solicitor for the condemned. Victor Allen, son of Floyd and brother to Claude, was present. Among others may be mentioned Lawyer D. C. O'Flaherty, Hiram M. Smith, assistant federal district attorney; the Rev. J. J. Scherer, pastor of the First English Evangelical Luthern Church; Captain James H. Price.

The meeting of the sympathizers for last night's conference was not unexpected and was not unknown. The probability of such a meeting had been discussed as far back as last Wednesday afternoon. So soon as Governor Mann, who left Richmond at 3:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon, was believed to be outside of the borders of Virginia, the sympathizers gathered. They were scheduled to assemble at Jefferson Hotel, but the real meeting was had at the residence of John P. Branch, who said he was to ill to leave his home.

At 6:30 o'clock yesterday morning members of the jury required by law to witness executions, began to arrive at the penitentiary and in solemn silence were admitted to the building where the mandate of the court was to be carried out and the death sentence was to be visited upon father and son. The scene was awe inspiring in the extreme. Big strong men, officers of the aw and citizens, spoke in whispers while the silence usually observed in scenes of death was prevalent in every department of the reception division of the prison.

WORK OF RESCUE NOW IN PROGRESS

Relief Parties With Emergency Rations Reach Flooded Sections.

DEAD IN COLUMBUS

State Board of Health Takes Prompt Measures to Prevent Outbreak of Disease From Dead Bodies.

With the floods largely abated in Columbus, Dayton, Zanesvile, Marietta, Piqua, and other communities that have been heavy sufferers, search parties today were succeeding more rapidly in the work of rescuing survivors and recovering the bodies of the dead.

Governor Cox announced relief parties with emergency rations had today reached every flooded section. All homeless survivors were being fed. The problem that now confronts the executive is to supply clothing and shelter and to continue the food supply until the survivors re-establish themselves.

Fifty-six bodies have been recovered in the flooded west side of Columbus. Col. B. S. Barger, safety director, repeated his estimate of 100 dead there. Coroner Benhert again estimated 200 dead.

Rescuers working in every part of Dayton reported the death list less than 200.

Governor Cox declared the state will seize railroads running into Dayton if it is necessary to prevent sightseers from going there.

The state board of health has shipped carloads of lime and other disinfectants to Dayton to gaurd against spread of disease. An attempt will be made today to start the city's water works.

Loses Close Game With Business High School.

What proved to be a very exciting and interesting game of baseball throughout, was played yesterday evening between the A. H. S. and Business High School baseball teams.

Although Raison pitched a splendid game of ball, the A. H. S., lost on account of errors. Up to the begining of the fourth lning the A. H. S. enjoyed a lead of three runs, which were made by Nalls, Deavers and Fisher. In the fourth Derrick brought in Business High School's first run and in the seventh and ighth innigs two more were added by Wilson and Widemeyer, which tied the score. In the eighth the A. H. S. again forged to the front, when Fisher brought in another run, making the score 4 to 3. But this did not last long, however, for in the begining of the ninth ingin Bornet and Bernstein brought the victor's total number of tallies up to five. In the last half of the ninth inning Raison got as far as second base, but died trying to steal third.

Runs: A. H. S.—Fisher, (2)), Nalls, Deavers.

B. H. S.—Bornet, Bernstein, Derrick, Widemeyer, Wilson.

Hits off Raison, 8; off Kelly, 11. Struck out by Raison, 5; by Kelley, 8. Erors:—A. H .S. 8; B.H. S. 5.

HARRY TUCKER IS NOT A CANDIDATE

Announces That he Will Leave the Field to Henry C. Stuart.

PLANS INDEFINITE.

Statement Issued That He Will Remain in State and Work For Interest of Democratic Party.

For the first time in a generation the Democratic party of Virginia will present a man to the voters of the Commonwealth for their support for the high position of the Governor of the State without any contest of any kind. The Democratic nomination is equivaltn to an election and this will mean that Henry C. Stuart of the Ninth District, will be the next Governor of Virginia.

It has been apparent for sevaral months that Mr. Stuart would be the only candidate in the party. The only man in the state who was likely to oppose him was Harry St. George Tucker, who is so well and favorably known here. Mr. Tucker was a candate against Governor Mann four years ago and was only defeated by a small majority. He has been considering the question of running again but has definitely made up his mind not to enter the race. He issued the following statement in Washington last night:

"I do not expect to be a candidate for the nomination for the governorship of Virginia in the primary this summer. The proffered support of many Democrats all over the state who opposed my nomination four years ago, as well as the consistent loyalty of those who suported me at that time, with few exceptions, have caused me to waver in this determination, but personal ambition should never stand in the way of the public weal, and I have come to my decision because I believe I can be of greater service to Virginia and the Democritc party in Virginia, fighting in the ranks, than as a candidate for office. No one who has followed the political history of our state can fail to see the great need for progressive legislation in order to keep pace with the commonwealth around us.

"If we are to be successful in the anti-trust fight which has been inaugurated in the country, which has been indorsed in our national Democratic platform, and of which Woodrow Wilson and Wm. J. Bryan today are the most conspicuous leaders, it must be accomplished largely by State legislation, such as has recently been adopted in New Jersey. The adoption of a legalized primary law, as well as a stringent corrupt practices act, constitute the most basic needs of the state today.

"In the fight for them I shall enlist with enthusiasm, and whenever I can help in advancing the cause of the progressive candidates for the legislature, and in exposing the hidden hand of the machine in this state—that failing to defeat Wilson for the nomination for the presidencey still seeks to continue to intrench itself in power in the state—I shall be ready to respond.

"With the advent of Woodrow Wilson to the Presidency, and the stimulus to the public conscience which his campaign and election have wrought, we can confidently hope for a more enlightened interest in these great questions, in which the people of the state are so deeply interested, and if I can the better aid in accomplishing these results by remaining in the ranks, rather than by entering the race for Governor, I shall be more than satisfied with the result."

FLOOD WATERS RUN INTO OHIO RIVER

Scores of Cities Inundated and Property Losses Reach Millions.

FLEEING TO THE HILLS

Flood Stage Higher Than Any Time Since 1884—Cincinnati Hotels Still Crowded With Refugees.

Flood waters from three states today poured into the already swollen Ohio river, inundating a score of cities and causing new property losses that will run into the millions. All records for high water are being broken.

Large sections of Cincinnati, Ironton, and Portsmouth, Ohio, and Covington, and Newport, Ky., across the river from Cincinnati, were flooded.

Warnings that have been sent out for days, however, has caused most of the residents to flee to the hills or take refuge in other high places. The loss of life therfore, is expected to be light.

The flood stage at Marietta has reached the record established in 1884, which was seventy-one feet. The water is still rising. Prediction was made today that the water all along the river wil go far above the present high mark.

Every hotel in Cincinnati is crowded to its capacity, while every moving van automombile truck, and freight and street car has been presed into service removing families from the flood area.

The river reached 65.9 feet at daybreak, and was rising at the rate of one and one-tenth of a foot an hour. Sixty city blocks are inundated. There has been little suffering because of warnings sent out.

The approach to the suspension bridge is covered with water at a depth that prevents car or foot service to Covington. The Central bridge, leading into Newport, Ky., hak been abandoned.

The water has reached the second floors of business houses along Front street.

Cincinnati has enough food supplies to last at least ten days.

Columbus, March 29.—Talking from the top of a telephone pole, seventy-two feet miles south of Lancaster, Ohio, C. Brawleg, of Sugar Grove, reported to Columbus today the situation at Marietta was the worst in the city's history.

Brawleg said the Ohio river stage exceeded by six feet the 1881 high record. He said the loss of life there would not be great, but that one-third of the city had already been flood-swept. College buildings an dchurches are filled with refugees, Brawleg said, and supplies should be rushed there at once.

RECITAL LAST NIGHT

Large Congregration Gather in Second Presbyterian Church—An Enjoyable Evening

The Second Presbyterian Church was crowded last night to its capacity when Mr. Harry Patterson Hopkins, of Washington and Baltimore, gave an organ recital, assisted by the quartette choir of the Franklin Street Presbyterian Church of Baltimore. The program, which was one of rare musical excellence, was thoroughly enjoyed.

Mr. Hopkins has appeared here before in recital, and, as on previous occasions, his playing was enthusiastically received. He is, indeed, a master musician. The choir gave three selections and each in its turn was equally enjoyed. Mrs. Janney, the alto soloist, sang "The Publican" by Van de Water. The number was one of the hts of the evening. Mrs. Janney possesses a rich, sympathetic voice, which charmed all her listeners.

Altogether the concert was more than something thoroughly enjoyable. It was a treat.

The party consisting of Mrs. Theodore H. Crommer, soprano, Mrs. Cora Barker Janney, alto; Alfred Goodfellow, tenor, and Leslie M. Duval, baso, will return to Baltimore today.

The program follows:
Batiste—Grand Offertoire de St Cecile, in F Minor. . . . Attacca
Williams—Jesus Lover of my Soul.
Felix—Chant Sans Paroles.
Wagner—Brautlied, from Lohengrin.
St. Clair—Meditation.
Van de Water—The Publican.
Alto Solo—Mrs. Janney.
Goumod—Marche funebre d'une Marionette.
Dvorak—Humoreske.
Geibel—In the End of the Sabbath. (Easter Anthem.)

The proceeds of the collection will be sent to the sufferers from the flood in the middle west.

At a meeting of three of the Scottish Rite Masonic Lodges held last night in the Masonic Temple plans for a large amount of degree work to be performed during the ensuing year was made. Costumes have been ordered for the various degrees which will be given with dramatic effect.

LeHew, almoner; James M. Duncan, treasurer, and James P. King, secretary. The newly elected officers will be installed at the next meeting of the lodge and the wise master will fill the appointive offices.

At the conclusion of the meeting of Randolph Chapter meetings of Lafayette Chapter No. 2, Knights of Kadosh and Virginia Consistory No. 3 were held.

The advance sale of tickets is most encouragng, as it is for a most worthy object. The soldier boys can put on a good show and with the added attraction of a band concert at 7:30 p. m., all are sure to be plessed. $t is expected that Captain George McBride and several players of the Washington Nationals will be present and give a talk.

ORDINANCES SIGNED.

New Dog Law, Ordinance Regulating Rollerskating And Censorship of Moving Pictures Now Operative.

Mayor Fisher has signed the ordinance compelling the muzzling of dogs to run at large, forbidding the exhibition of pictures illustrating crimes and attempts to commit crime, and making it unlawuful to indulge in rollerskating on any sidewalks or on streets on which railway tracks have been placed. The latter ordinance contains the interdiction of certain methods of participating in this sport, such as children gliding along in platoons, or allowing themselves to be "towed" by cars or other vehicles.

The urgent need of these laws has long been recognized, and as they have now become operatve, it is needless to say that all good citzens will vie in their enforcement.

The new dog law will minimize the danger from attacks by vicious curs, the ordinance in reference to moving pictures cuts out scenes calculated to fire the young with adventurous spirits, while the law concerning roller skating will doubtless prevent accidents so often resulting from recklessness upon the part of thoughtless young people.

Beautiful New Cretonnes

It is no exaggeration for us to state that all of our Cretonnes have been selected with the idea of meeting the idea of the particular needs of each individual buyer.

The designs and colorings this season are the most beautiful of any we have ever shown. Especially is this so of the English and French Cretonnes, in most dainty tones, and also those of bold and striking effect; floral, conventional and rich, end unusual effect depicting bird and animal life, particularly suggestive of spring, creating such an atmosphere wherever they are used.

Domestic Cretonnes occupy a strong place this season, and their beauty parison with the imported. Various and attractiveness suffer none in com makers have vied with one another in their anxiety to produce patterns both beautoful and practical.

NEWS OF THE OLD DOMINION.

DAMAGE BY FLOOD.

Lynchburg, Va., March 29.—The rest of the freshet in the James River was reported about 11 o'clock esterday the stage then being 24.6 eet; shortly afterwards the water egan to fall slowly.

By reason of the flood at least ,000 people are thrown out of employment temporarily and the property loss will probably be a quarter illion of dollars.

The railways and two pipe foundries seem to have suffered the most. The Chesapeake and Ohio ain line is five or six feet under ater at places, and in the lower ban a trestle about 200 feet long is oating on the surface of the water. his will have to be rebuilt before rough train service can be resumed.

The Norfolk and Western track on e island yard and east of the city is bmerged, but it is possible that is system can resume traffic late is afternoon or tonight unless it found that some of the bridges or estles just east of the city are injured. The condition of these cannot be learned because all of the offices have been abandoned, and there e no nearby telephones.

The bridge to the Y. M. C. A. Island playground was washed away ring the night, but the clubhouse the island has not been reached the flood. The boathouses are arly all covered with water, but ne swept away. Several horses ere drowned during the night, but lives are known to have been st.

With the exception of the two pipe lls all of the plants stopped by the od can be in operation tomorrow. is is the highest water experienc here since the freshet of 1871.

rates the free of the outside world from the confined, the guard simply said "juror?" in a questioning tone and the man who was to witness the awful work of the electric chair nooded his head an assent and passed through.

The news of the short respite was not generally known, and it was not until after the jurors arrived at the penitentiary that they were told of the postponement.

About 7:20 Superintendent Wood assembled the jury in his private office and told them that the original time of execution had been deferred, that certain legal proceedings were being considered and requested them to return to the prison at 1 o'clock.

At the same time Superintendent Wood requested Assistant Superintendent Lamb to have six of the guards return to the prison at 1 o'clock in addition to the regular day force of officials.

There was no excitement on the outside of the prison. Only a very few persons had the morbid curiosty to appear and these were told by city police that no crowd would be allowed to assemble there.

The two men, who expected to be ushered into eternity about 7 o'clock yesteray morning, knew nothing whatever about what had happened, and that the execution had been deferred for a few hours. When Superintendent Wood appeared at the cell doors of Floyd and Claude Allen he found the men calmly waiting the announcement that everything was ready and to prepare for the solemn march to the chamber of death.

When the prisoners were informed by the superintendent of what had been done, very little emotion was shown and they simply thanked the official for the efforts that were being made to save their lives. The superintendent made no suggestion of hope or encouragement, and the prisoners gave every evidence of hope absolutely abandoned.

This was possibly the most trying ordeal that Superintendent Wood has been compelled to undergo in this remarkable case. For several days the strain has been something terrific, and the prison officials have probably suffered more than the condemned men. Tears of sorrow filled the eyes of Mr. Wood as he returned from the death corridor to his private office and told a reporter what had happened.

Crowds View Remains.

Over the vigorous protest of Victor M. Allen and Rev. J. J. Scherer, Jr., 12,000 to 15,000 Richmond people yesterday afternoon and last night made a public spectacle of the bodies of Floyd Allen and Claude Swanson Allen. For six hours men, women and children, white and black, poured through the gates of Bliley's undertaking establishment at Third and Marshall streets, were ushered through the mortuary chamber by employes and by city police, and made to pass quickly out to the street.

The scene was one of the most astounding that can be conceived, revealing an extent of morbidity difficult to comprehend.

Women with young girls took them through the chamber, crowds of ragged, barefoot boys, children barely large enough to walk, and who had to be held up to view the ghastly spectacle, hundreds of negro laborers, were admitted. In spite of the protests from the surviving member of the family, the astounding spectacle was kept up until about 10:30 o'clock, when the caskets were closed and were removed to the railroad station.

The people were put out of the mortuary chamber, and a short service was held. Victor Allen bore up well, after the first shock of seeing the dead features of his father and brother.

A little girl, eight years old, brought a small box of flowers marked "For Claude Allen." Several other packages of flowers were received.

Victor Allen remained at the Hotel Richmond until 11 o'clock, when, with a few friends, he was driven to the Southern Railway station. The bodies had already been placed in the baggage car. He shook hands with all of his companions, and boarded the train almost immediately. Those with him bared their heads as the good-bye were said.

Several police officers accompanied him to the station. A dozen more were on duty there, but the crowd was small and there was no disorder.

Mr. Scherer remained on the train until it left at 11:45 o'clock. He left with Victor Allen the medal which was to have been presented to Claude, but which he never saw. It will be given to Mrs. Floyd Allen, Victor's mother, who, in her mountain home, awaits the bodies of her husband and son.

SOUTHERNERS BEST FRIENDS.

Colored Minister Addresses Meeting in Richmond, Va.

Richmond, Va., March 29.—The colored man must renounce the bugaboo of allegiance to the Republican party and learn to vote for the best man, regardless of party, if he hopes to keep the franchise and become a real citizen, according to Rev. J. Milton Waldron, D. D., pastor of the Shiloh Baptist Church, of Washington, D. C., who addressed the Dunbar Literary and Historical Society at the Third Street African Methodist Episcopal Church Tuesday night.

"I believe in the white people of the South," he said. "They are, as a class' our best friends in everything except politics. They will do business with us as no other white men will; they help us build our churches and schoolhouses, bury our dead, and care for our sick and aged ones. They employ us by millions and aid us in buying our homes and getting a start in business. The white bankers of the South readily lend us money, cash our checks, and the merchants sell u stheir goods on time. They defend us when in trouble and sympathize with us when in distress. Why should we remain the political enemies of these people?"

RUSHING TO SCHOONERS AID.

Unknown Three-Masted Vessel in Distrees Off Virginia Shore.

Norfolk, Va., March 28.—The United States revenue cutter Onondaga proceeded yesterday to the assistance of an unknown three-masted schooner which is in distress off the Cobb's Island-life saving nation on the eastern shore of Virginia.

At last reports the schooner, which suffered badly in Thursday night's storm, was at anchor.

Bosserman Acquitted.

Staunton, Va., March 29.—At the close of a trial lasting nearly four days and after 18 hours' deliberation, the jury in the case of Mrs. Clara R. Bosserman, tried for being accessory in the shooting of her husband, Luther Bosserman, was discharged because it could not agree, standing 7 to 5 for acquittal.

Mrs. Bosserman was remanded to jail and the court refused to reduce her bail of $1,000.

Why Salves Can't Cure Eczema

Since the old-fashioned theory of curing eczema through the blood has been given up by scientists, many different salves have been tried for skin diseases. But it has been found that these salves only clog the pores and cannot penetrate to the inner skin below the epidermis where the eczema germs are lodged.

This the quality of penetrating—probably explains the tremendous success of the well known liquid eczema remedy, D.D.D. (a mixture of wintergreen, thyme, glycerine, etc., as compounded in D.D.D. Prescription.

We have sold other remedies for skin troubles but none that we can recommend as highly as this for we know that D.D.D. stops the itch at once. We can give you a trial size bottle for 25 cents that will be enough to prove it.

Of course all other druggists have D.D.D. Prescription—go to them if you can't come to us—but don't accept some big profit substitute.

But if you come to our store, we are so certain of what D.D.D. will do for you that we offer you a full size bottle on this guarantee—if you do not find that it takes away the itch AT ONCE, it costs you not a cent.

BUT ONE CANDIDATE TO BE IN THE FIELD.

As will be seen elsewhere in the Gazettee, there is every reason to believe Hon. Henry C. Stuart will be the only Democratic candidate for gubernatorial honors this year. Mr. Stuart needs no introduction to the people of Virginia, nor to a large portion of the country, as his prominence is recognized far beyond the confines of the Old Dominion, where he is so justly esteemed. He would have been a candidate in 1909 but the sickness of his wife in Paris made it necessary for him to leave this country.

His recent contest in the ninth district is the best manifestation if his ascendancy in the political world, as he entered the black belt against Slemp and only fell short of victory by a few hundred votes—or, in other words, had there been a change in half that number the only republican Congressman from Virginia would have found himself in the boat for Salt River with the many others, stars of more or les magnitude, which have disappeared from the political sky.

Harry St. George Tucker, who was defeated for the nomination for Governor four years ago by the present incumbent of the gubernatorial chair, made a noble fight on that occasion, and manifested his political strength by the large vote he received. It had been supposed by his many friends that he would be in the race again this year, but, as will be seen by his statement, he will allow Mr. Stuart to have a walk-over.

This announcement will be read with pleasure by all good Democrats, coming as it does, at an opportune time, when enemies of the party have bene chuckling over what they dreamed is a split in the organization.

As is the case in all parties, there are times when jars occur in political households, but the recent troubling of the waters soon assumed the proportions of a ripple and then disappeared.

THE SONGS OF THE SOUTH.

The Songs of the South, how their pleasing refrains
Tempt our memories back to the days
When our good mothers crooned their soft lullaby strains
In the darkening twilight's blue haze.

The Songs of the South, how they cheer the sad heart
Of the wanderer, far from his home,
And he wonders what caused him from Dixie to part,
And he loses the longing to roam.

Perhaps they're not classic, perhaps they're not true
To the standards the masters have set,
But their melodies, pure as the morning's fresh dew,
Once learned, we can never forget.

And so, while the years of the centuries fly.
When we and our children are gone,
These ballads you'll find, were ne'er destined to die,
The Songs of the South will live on.

NEWS OF THE DAY.

Justice Henry Bischoff, of the New York State Supreme Court, plunged eleven stories down an elevator shaft to his death yesterday afternoon in the Immigrant Savings Bank building New York, where he had offices. Justice Bischoff entered the elevator at the ground floor, apparently intending to leave it at the twentieth floor where his office is located. By mistake he left at the eleventh floor. He detected his error almost immediately and turned to re-enter the car. In the meantime the car had shot upward, the operator closing the door as the vehicle ascended. Justice Bischoff, who was nearsighted, did not see the ascending car, and fell through the partly open door. His body was horribly mangled.

Flood waters have receded sufficiently to show that the number of persons drowned in the affected cities in Ohio and Indiana may not exceeded 500. While many persons are still missing to friends and relatives, investigations made to date indicate that many were safe who had been thought lost.

"I'll bet I can blow your block off without hurting you," said William Millins in the barroom of the Central House at Milton, Duchess county, N. Y., last night, and then picking up a double barreled shot gun, he blew off the top of the head of Ted Wolf. Death was instantaneous. Millins then ran out of the door and made his escape. The men were two of a crowd in the bar room of Thomas Hogan's hotel. The men had no quarrel. Millins has been employed at the Borden Condensed Milk plant and was a well known ball player. He was to have gone to Hackensack, N. J., today to be given a try-out as pitcher on the Troy team of the New York State League. Wolf was 37 years old and a carpenter employed in the village.

James F. McCrea, former president of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company, died at 11:50 o'clock last night at his home in Narbeth, a Philadelphia suburb. McCrea had been sinking steadily for two days, and the end was not unexpected. Bright's disease was given as the cause of his death.

Ladies to Clean up Farmville.

Farmville, Va., March 29.—There was a largely attended mass-meeting a few nights ago under the auspices of the Civic League, many ladies being in attendance, and fresh inspiration was given to the movement for civic betterment. April 1st has bene designated as general cleaning up day and again women will be in command of the forces. Mayor Barrow and Councilman Vaiden were present and took the liberty of pledging an appropriation to cover the costs attendant on cleaning day.

GREAT IDEAS OF GREAT MEN.

It was Hampden who established in the English mind the idea of liberty; Cromwell, who established the idea of toleration; Blake the idea that Britain must be the master of the seas; and Milton the idea of the liberty of the press; and we take the liberty to state that John A. Marshall & Bro., are the best prepared to serve the people this spring with the latest and finest footwear on the market. In addition to other styles their Buster Brown shoes for children, Misses and Grown-up girls are claiming the attention of the buying public. For men their styles are the real thing.

Conviction Born of Experience.

The man who has used Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and watched and felt and realized its remarkable curative properties will tell you that it has no superior for coughs and colds. The remarkable success of this preparation aided by the personal recommendations of people who have been cured by it has made it one of the most popular medicines in use. Try it when you have a cough or cold and realize for yourself what a first class cough medicine will accomplish. For sale by all dealers.

ABANDONS APPEAL.

Henrico County Constable Will Accept One Year in Jail.

Richmond, Va., March 29.—Thomas A. Davis, the Henrico County constable, who was convicted two months ago for making felonious assault on Motorman I. N. Throckmorton, of the Richmond and Rappahanock Railway Company, and was given twelve months in jail, has decided not to take his case to the Supreme Court of Appeals of Virginia and will begin his sentence April 1st.

Davis is alleged to have fractured Motorman Throckmorton's skull when he hit him with the butt end of a revolver at Fair Oaks on the night of December 18th. The assault followed an interference of Throckmorton in a fight between Davis and the conductor of the car. When arraigned in Henrico County Court efforts were made by Atorneys Lewis and Russell, counsel for the accused, to have the charge of criminal assault withdrawn and the charge of unlawful assault preferred against him. However, the original charge was pressed and the jury fixed his punishment at one year in the Henrico Copnty jail.

It is understood that a petition will be immediately presented to Governor Mann nasking for executive clemency. Prior to this affair his conduct as a member of the Henrico county constabulary was considered good by Sheriff Kemp and his fellow officers.

THE TEST THAT TELLS.

Is The Test of Time. Many Alexandria People Have Made This Test.

Years ago this Alexandria citizen told in a public statement the benefit derived from Doan's Kidney Pills.

The statement is now confirmed—the testimony complete. Instances like this are numerous. They doubly prove the merit of Doan's Kidney Pills. Can any Alexandria reader demand more convincing proof? It's Alexandria testimony—it may be investigated.

Mrs. Anine Scott, 110 Prince street, strong friend to Doan's Kidney Pills Alexandria, Va., says: "I am the same today, as I was in 1910 when I publicly told of the cure they had made for me. This cure has been lasting, but I occasionally use Doan's Kidney Pills as a preventive. I had pains in my back and I could not rest well. In the morning I always felt tired and worn out, and I also had dizzy spells. Doan's Kidney Pills did such good world that it is a pleasure to recommend them to other kidney sufferers."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States.

Garnett yesterday afternoon. Robinson Moncure, attorney, represented the prisoner.

The commissioner, after a careful examination of witnesses, examined maps in another case which had been prepared by United States Engineers and a map made by the surveyor of Alexandria county. TRUSTEE'S SALE OF RESIDUE.

Trustee's sale of the residue of the "Belvoir" or "White House" tract of land located in Mt. Vernon Magisterial District, Fairfax County, Va., containing approximately 1100 acres with improvements.

By virtue of the authority vested in us by the will of Philip Otterback, deceased, and under decree of the Circuit Court of Fairfax county, Va., in the suit of Otterback vs. Bohrer, at its March term, 1913, the undersigned trustees will offer for sale at public auction, in front of the Royal Street entrance to the Market House in Alexandria, Virginia, at the above described property.

This tract, the old home of Lord Fairfax and separated from George Washington's home at Mt. Vernon, by Dogue Creek, originally consisted of approximately twenty-seven hundred (2,700) acres, of which 1,500 acres has been taken by the United States Government for a school of Equitation or Horsemanship. The balance between ten and twelve hundred acres consists of valuable farming lands and about eight hundred (800) acres of valuable timber. It has a large deep water frontage on the Potomac river as well as a large frontage on Dogue Creek, with valuable fishing shores. The property is improved by the old mansion house, familiarly known for many years as the "White House," a club house, barns, stables, out-buildings and tenant houses. It is situated on the county road between Mt. Vernon and Accotink and is about four miles by road from Mt. Vernon. This property is one of the most historic in the section and would make a very desirable country estate because of its location and the opportunities afforded for fishing and shooting.

Terms of Sale:—One-third cash and residue in 3 equal annual payments at one, two and three years from the date of the confirmation of the sale with interest from the said date of the confirmation of sale at the rate of six per cent per annum, interest payable semi-annually, with right to anticipate the time of paying the deferred payments, secured by retention of title till paid.
